

A close-up photograph of a person's face, focusing on their green eyes and nose. The image is split horizontally by a white and red banner.

Survey TNS Ilres

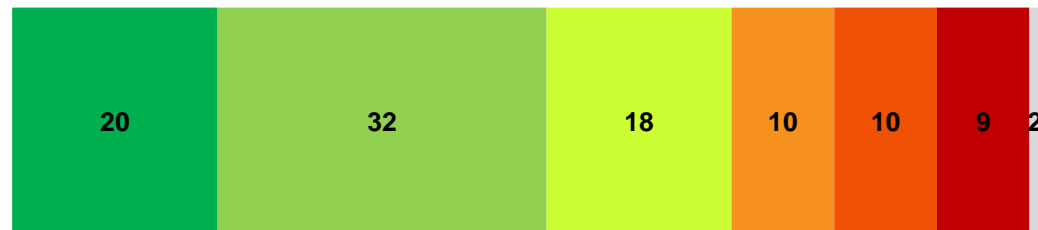

Part 4: The right to vote

2030.LU
AMBITION POUR LE FUTUR

Political Process: Granting foreigners the right to vote

■ completely agree
 ■ agree
 ■ rather agree
 ■ rather not agree
 ■ do not agree
 ■ do not agree at all
 ■ do not know

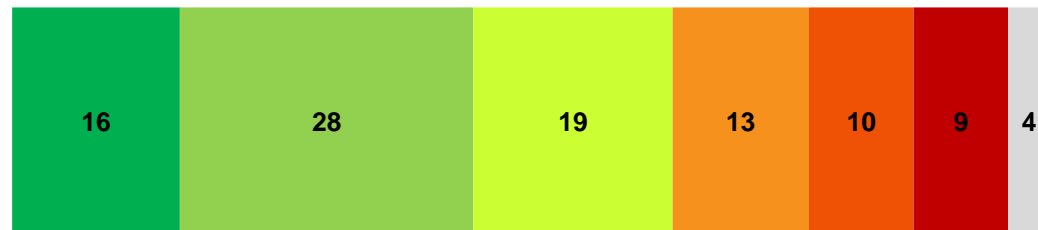

a. The voting community does not reflect the current societal structure in Luxembourg, hence foreigners should be permitted to cast their vote at the legislative elections after having lived a certain period of time in Luxembourg

c. A better integration of foreigners into the political decision making process would help facing the future challenges of Luxembourg

b. Granting the right to vote to foreigners would strengthen the social cohesion in Luxembourg

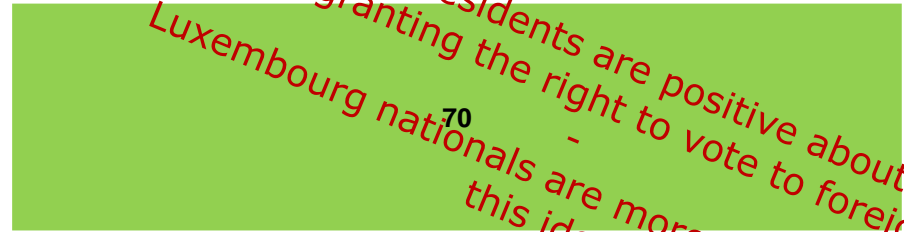

Nb: Survey among the residents

Political Process: Granting foreigners the right to vote

■ d'accord

a. The voting community does not reflect the current societal structure in Luxembourg, hence foreigners should be permitted to cast their vote at the legislative elections after having lived a certain period of time in Luxembourg

c. A better integration of foreigners into the political decision making process would help facing the future challenges of Luxembourg

b. Granting the right to vote to foreigners would strengthen the social cohesion in Luxembourg

2/3 of the residents are positive about the idea of granting the right to vote to foreigners Luxembourg nationals are more dubious about this idea

Nb: Survey among the residents

The right to vote

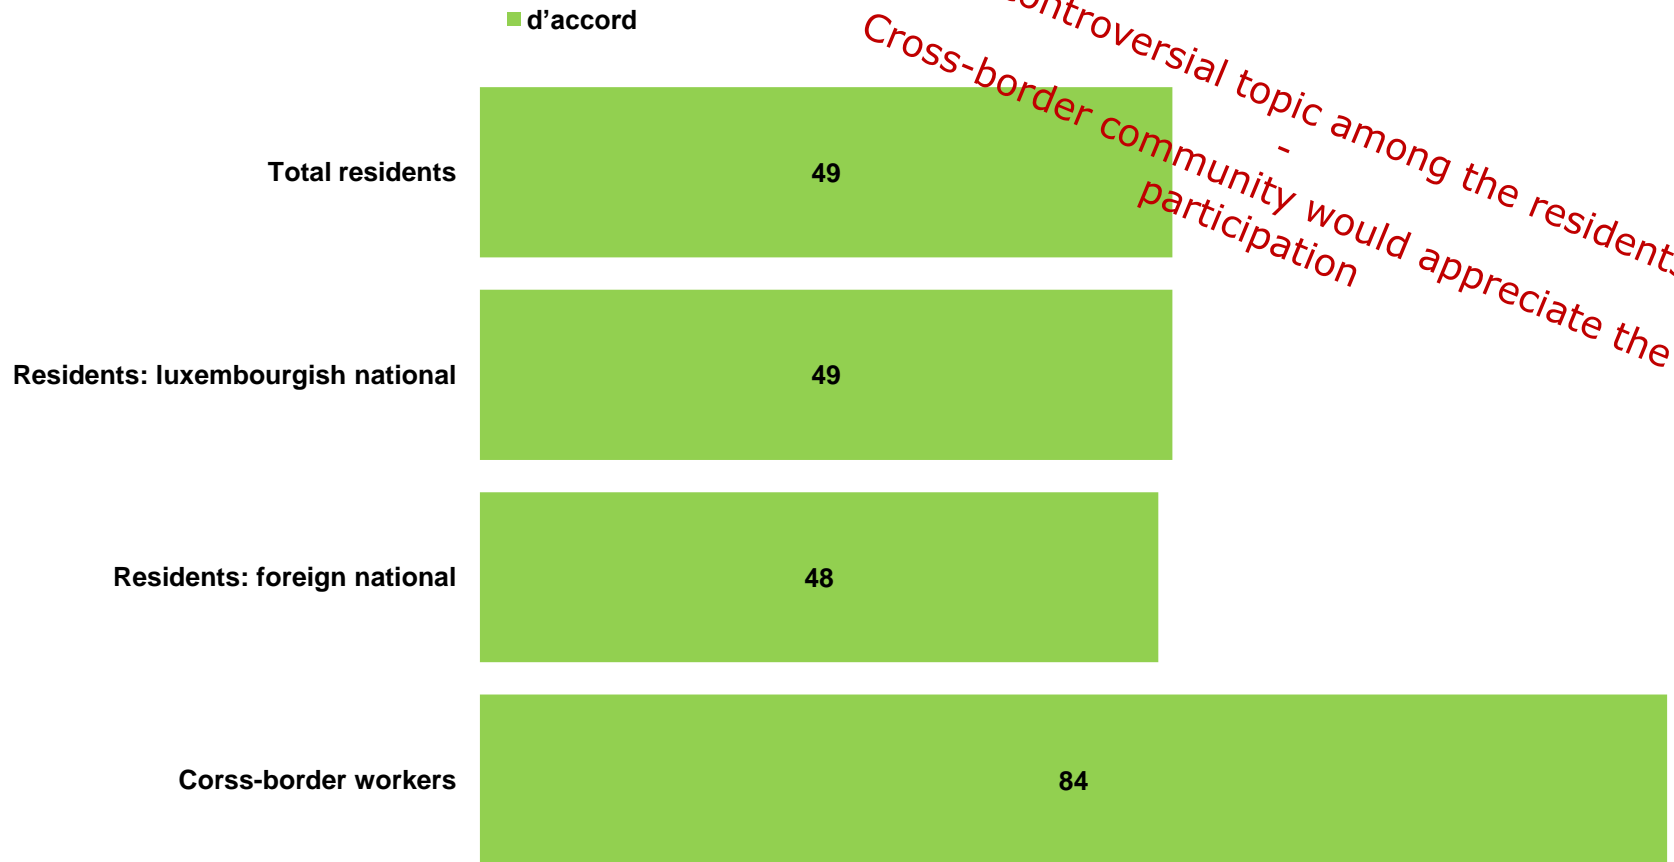

- ✓ In order to guarantee a more representative electorate, 70% of the residents believe that foreigners should be granted the right to vote after having lived a certain period in Luxembourg. The results are different based on their nationality, e.g. 59% of the Luxembourg nationals respectively 85% of the foreigners are in favour.
- ✓ The young Luxembourg nationals are more open about the idea of granting the right to vote to foreigners than the old generation.
- ✓ 67% of the residents believe that granting the right to vote to foreigners would help to face the future challenges of Luxembourg. Again, only 54% of the Luxembourg nationals agreed with this statement against 84% of the foreigners.
- ✓ 63 % o the residents believe that granting the right to vote to foreigners would strengthen the social cohesion. Again, we can observe an important discrepancy between nationals and foreigners: 50% of the nationals against 80% of the foreigners.
- ✓ The opinions stated by the foreigners are generally shared by the cross-border community.

Allowing the cross-border workers to join the political debate (without participation in the national elections)

■ completely agree
 ■ agree
 ■ rather agree
 ■ rather not agree
 ■ do not agree
 ■ do not agree at all
 ■ do not know

Allowing the cross-border workers to join the political debate (without participation in the national elections)

Allowing the cross-border workers to join the political debate

- ✓ This question seems to divide the opinion of the residents. 49% are in favour while 48% of the residents are against such a measure
- ✓ These scores control for all socio-demographic profile
- ✓ A big majority of the cross-border community think that their participation in the political debate would strengthen the social cohesion in Luxembourg.

Results for cross-border workers

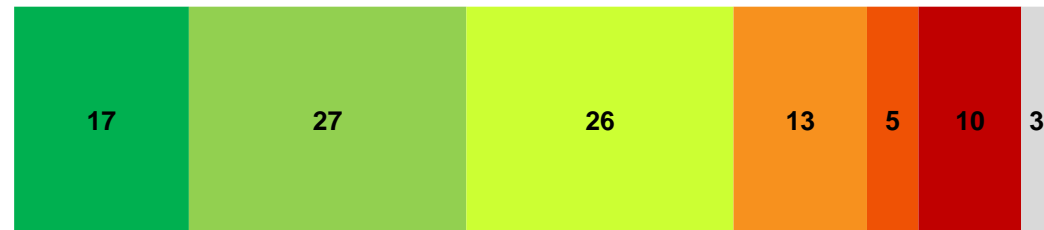

Political process: Do you agree or do you not agree with the following statements

■ completely agree
 ■ agree
 ■ rather agree
 ■ rather not agree
 ■ do not agree
 ■ do not agree at all
 ■ do not know

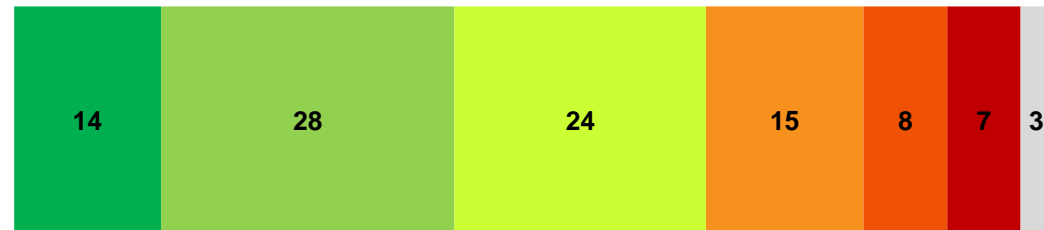

a. The voting community does not reflect the current societal structure in Luxembourg, hence foreigners should be permitted to cast their vote at the legislative elections after having lived a certain period of time in Luxembourg

c. A better integration of foreigners into the political decision making process would help facing the future challenges of Luxembourg

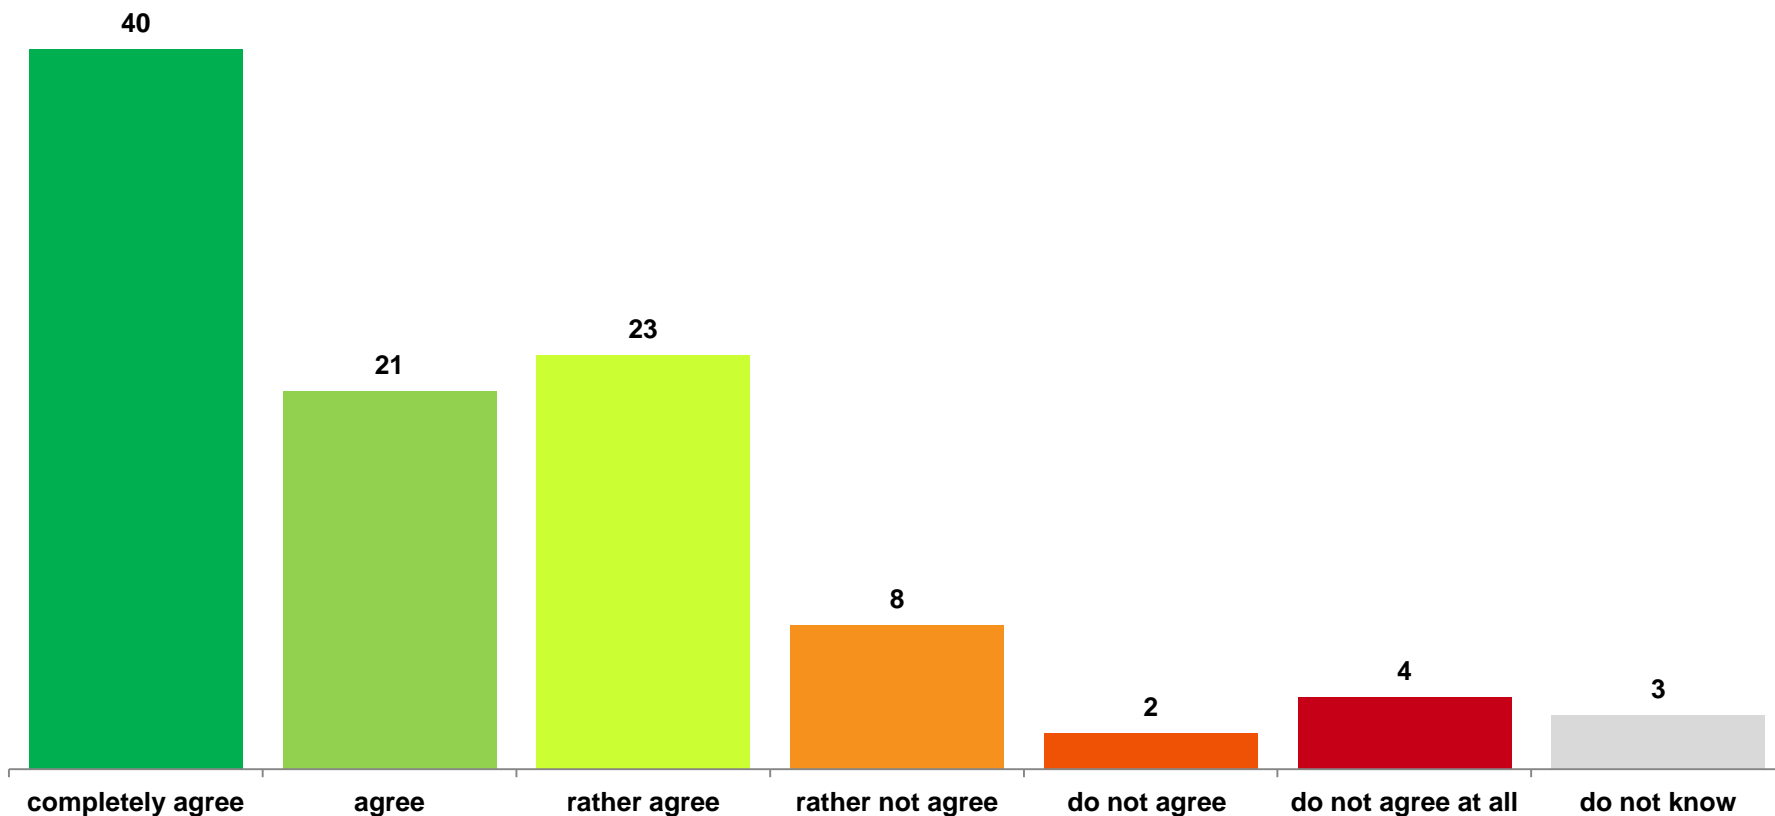

b. Granting the right to vote to foreigners would strengthen the social cohesion in Luxembourg

Nb: Survey among the cross-border workers

Allowing the cross-border workers to join the political debate

Nb: Survey among the cross-border workers